

Volunteer Interpretive Training Opportunity

September 15th - 10AM-12PM

The C&O Canal National Historical Park will be offering a free training at the Historic Bowles House Visitor Center in Hancock, MD. Interpretation is a key part of communication for any park unit. The information that we share with visitors is important, but how we deliver that information is equally valuable. In this 2-hour workshop, participants will learn about the basics of an interpretation formula, how we identify the pieces of interpretation, and practice some of the skills in our interpretive portfolio.

- ◆ Space is limited. Please RSVP by September 5th.
- ◆ Phone: 301-745-5877
- ◆ Email: hollie_lynch@nps.gov

■ INTERPRETATION

■ COMMUNICATION

“Interpretation is a journey, a never-ending quest for excellence reaching for wide horizons and challenging frontiers.”

-David Larsen

Thursday, September 15th

10 AM-12PM

C&O Canal NHP
Bowles House
439 E. Main St.
Hancock, MD
21750